A HOUSE DEDICATED TO EXCEPTIONAL CIGARS

Great O Legacy Distribution & Co exists for one purpose: to bring the world's most distinguished cigars to Swiss professionals, under exclusive importation and with the care these products demand.

We represent a deliberately small number of producers. This is a choice, not a limitation. It allows us to know each brand in depth, to guarantee authenticity and provenance on every box, and to offer our partners something rare in this market — a distributor who speaks about the product with genuine authority.

WHAT GUIDES US

Our mission is simple to state and demanding to fulfil: to connect iconic cigar houses with the Swiss professionals best placed to represent them.

Great producers entrust their cigars to very few hands, and we take that trust seriously. It calls for precision in everything operational — sourcing, storage, allocation, delivery — and a long-term view in everything commercial. Our purpose is to build the standing of the brands we carry, year after year, alongside partners who share that ambition.

Integrity, quality and service are not presented here as ideals. They are the conditions under which producers of this calibre agree to work with anyone at all.

MORE THAN A SUPPLIER

Anyone can deliver boxes. Our role goes further.

KNOWLEDGE.
We train your teams on the brands we distribute — their history, their construction, and their place both in a humidor and in a conversation with a discerning customer.

PRESENTATION.
We help you display, position and price these cigars in a way that reflects their true standing, with materials and guidance adapted to your point of sale.

ALLOCATION.
For rare productions, we manage availability fairly and transparently, so that you can plan with confidence and reward your best customers.

CONTINUITY.
Every cigar travels and rests in controlled conditions from origin to your door. What leaves the factory in perfect condition arrives in perfect condition.

When you carry a brand through Great O Legacy Distribution & Co, you carry it with the means to understand it, present it and defend its value.

INTRODUCING ARTURO FUENTE

Some names need little introduction among aficionados. Arturo Fuente is one of them.

Founded in 1912 and still owned and run by the Fuente family, the house has spent more than a century refusing shortcuts. Four generations have rebuilt after fires, embargoes and hurricanes, each time returning to the same conviction: a great cigar cannot be rushed, delegated or industrialised.

From the Dominican Republic, the family produces some of the most sought-after cigars in the world — among them Fuente Fuente OpusX, the cigar that proved an exceptional wrapper could be grown on Dominican soil, at Château de la Fuente. Its production is finite by nature; demand is not. This is what makes an Arturo Fuente cigar more than a product on a shelf — it is something your customers seek out, remember, and return for.

Great O Legacy Distribution & Co is the official importer and distributor of Arturo Fuente for Switzerland. We represent the family's work the way it is made: with patience, exactness and respect.

The Arturo Fuente cigar brand was born in 1912 in West Tampa, Florida. It was in that year that the brand was launched by a 24-year-old Cuban émigré named Arturo Fuente (November 18, 1887 – February 11, 1973). Arturo came to the United States in 1902 to begin a new life, leaving his hometown of Güines, Cuba in the aftermath of the Spanish–American War.

The original factory used by the company was a three-story wooden building, one of nearly 200 cigar-making facilities in the city of Tampa alone. All of these manufacturers would import tobacco from nearby Cuba for production into finished cigars.

The company was incorporated in 1924, by which time A. Fuente & Co. had grown to the point that it employed 500 workers. However, late in 1924, disaster struck the company and their building burned to the ground. Production of the brand was halted; it would not be until 1946, 22 years later, that production of the brand resumed.

"We will never rush the hands of time."

Arturo Fuente Hemingway®

Anna and Carlos A. Fuente

As told by Carlos Fuente Jr.

"My grandfather made Perfecto cigars; they were very popular during the 1920's, 30's and 40's. When I was growing up we made perfectos by hand, but as time went by there were fewer and fewer cigar makers rolling perfectos. As the cigar makers grew older, they retired, they passed away. It took a real master to make a true Perfecto cigar."

"As a child I was fascinated with that shape and the really difficult art of the craft that the Perfecto cigar represents. So when we first came to the Dominican Republic in 1980, I thought we should start making those shapes again. At that time, no one was making shaped cigars. I wanted to bring back that old world style just to keep the art, the tradition, the craft, alive."

"Today we make an entire line of Perfecto cigars. These cigars are something special for our fellow cigar smokers to enjoy."

"Hemingway cigars have a very warm place in my heart and in my memories. It is very pleasing for me to remember watching these shaped cigars being made by my grandfather, and to think that these cigars are now made in our factory in the Dominican Republic, that is very fulfilling.

I hope that you enjoy the Hemingway cigars and what they mean to our family."

Arturo Fuente Casa Cuba

A tribute to the early days of cigar making

The Castillo de los Tres Reyes del Morro is the best-known castle fortress in Cuba and was built to guard the Bay of Havana. Construction began in 1589 and was completed in 1660.

"It's amazing that, after so many premium brands and sub-brands and lines, we can still continue to make so many different flavors that are all Fuente. If I've accomplished anything in this life, it's because my father has taught me. His memory still inspires me and drives me to do my best every day. My father will ALWAYS be my hero... I miss you Dad!" – Carlos Fuente Jr.

A tribute to the early days of cigar making, Casa Cuba is the last blend of the late Carlos Fuente Sr. using the time-honored traditions he learned from his father Arturo Fuente, about the experience and flavor of Cuban cigars.

Carlos Sr. selected an Ecuadorian Havana wrapper tobacco and a mix of Cuban-seed Dominican-grown long filler and binder. He then blended them in the same manner he used when blending Cuban tobacco many years ago.

JFK, MLK, Love, Peace, Vietnam, the Stones, Joplin, Woodstock. The 1960s was a decade full of "The Good, The Bad and The Ugly", when experimentation ran rampant and "Lucy was in the Sky with Diamonds," yet consciousness rose to the highest levels. People sought meaning, guardrails were burned, and pink flowers bloomed. This era marked a young Carlito Fuente for life, becoming an out-of-the-box artist who changed norms and set new standards in the cigar industry. With these lifelong reflections both in mind and soul, The ToyMaker created his latest gem – Rare Pink – with the hope that it reminds us all that no matter how tough the times get... In September of 1998, Hurricane Georges tore through the Caribbean Sea causing widespread destruction throughout the region, including the famous Chateau de la Fuente farm in the Dominican Republic, where the wrapper leaf for the acclaimed Fuente Fuente OpusX cigar is grown and harvested.

Two years later the storm's destruction resulted in a shortage of Fuente Fuente OpusX wrapper tobacco. Rather than halting production, Carlos Fuente Jr. ordered the use of a different wrapper, an aged Connecticut broadleaf. Once again, the Fuente family forged triumph from tragedy, and the Arturo Fuente Añejo cigar was born.

One of the world's most rare cigars, the Añejo cigar is rolled with the very best Dominican filler and binder from Chateau de la Fuente, then a 5-year-old Connecticut maduro wrapper aged in a Cognac barrel is added. This blend yields a rich, spicy, slightly sweet smoke and the unique aging process leaves a distinct finish.

While this line features several different sizes, it is home to one of the world's most famous shapes, the No. 77 or Shark as it is commonly known. Arturo Fuente DESTINO al Siglo

After years in the making, the Arturo Fuente Destino al Siglo was master blended to commemorate the company's 100-year anniversary. Made with wrappers from Chateau de la Fuente, this line of cigars uses a Habano seed rather than the Corojo seed variety used to make the renowned Fuente Fuente OpusX. Destino al Siglo will delight those who prefer a full-flavor, robust smoke.

This cigar is so exquisite, it can only be contained in the finest packaging. From the beautifully detailed cigar band to the Spanish cedar lift-out trays, the packaging is ornate and designed to look like a book. This century of destiny marks a major milestone in the Fuente family story.

Carlos Fuente Jr., the cigar's creator, remarks that the cigar represents the Fuente family story, the heritage, the love for our family and friends, our supporters, and our neighbors; "that's what I tried to compose," says Carlos. That's why even the sizes are named, Siglo de Amistad (Century of Friendship), Siglo de Passion (Century of Passion), Siglo de Amor (Century of Love), and Siglo de Familia (Century of Family). It's a special cigar with a special meaning. There are a lot of symbols and messages all over the label. Even the color is significant – why blue? Because my grandfather's original label, the one that I remember when I was a little boy, had the shield with AF the same as we have today, but instead of being red it was blue. It was that [shade of] blue. I was the one who changed the shield to red, probably back in the late 70s. So I thought it would be appropriate to go back to my grandfather's original color for this label."

Arturo Fuente ANGEL'S Share

The term "Angel's Share" is used in the winemaking process. Winemakers often use oak barrels to store their wine during the aging process. When the wine ages for long periods of time, some of it will evaporate from the barrel. The evaporated wine is called the Angel's Share, alluding to the belief that the guardian angels that watch over the wine, sample it and give their blessings.

Since we lost so much priceless, aged tobacco during the fire in 2012, the inspiration for this cigar came from that exact term. The warehouses that burned down contained tobacco that had been aging since the late 1940s and 1950s. The Fuente family was saving it for the special, 100-year anniversary. Unfortunately, it wasn't meant to be as the fire consumed much of the precious tobacco. It made the family extremely sad and depressed, but out of that came the Angel's Share cigar. From this it is implied that the Angels enjoyed the enticing aroma from the tobacco that burned in the barns, but in turn, gave their blessings to the Fuente family for future successful endeavors.

The Fuente Fuente OpusX Angel's Share uses a wrapper from the middle priming of the tobacco plant as opposed to the top priming from which Fuente Fuente OpusX cigars are typically made. Carlos Fuente Jr. focuses more on this part of the plant, which he believes is where most of the heart and flavor is.

I wanted to produce something I remembered. I wanted to go way back to my childhood. I wanted to go back to the happiest moments of my life. I wanted my grandfather to be proud of me. I wanted my father to be proud of me and my children to someday be proud of me. It was something I had to do.
